U. S. Indian Service,
Federal Building,
Salt Lake City.

Gentlemen:

Attention Mr. Clark.
Re: Uintah Dist.

Confirming our conversation, and my message over the telephone this morning, with reference to your contract holder making change of place of use of water rights I would say that it will be satisfactory if the application is made by the contract holder under the following conditions:

The application is to be made in the name of the contract holder and on page 1, paragraph 1, immediately under his name, should be the words "Contract holder from U. S. Indian Service." Under explanatory, near the bottom of the space allowed, should be written the words, "This application is approved by the U. S. Indian Service for the purpose herein set out", and this endorsement should be signed by someone of the Indian Service in authority. The applicant will, of course, sign the application in the proper place.

Yours very truly,

State Engineer.
